They are professionals . . . members of a demanding profession. They are the Air Force's Military Training Instructors. They take the young men and women of America and impart to them the basic military skills which are so vital in the making of future airmen. Much of your first summer at the United States Air Force Academy will be spent in Basic Cadet Training (BCT). This rigorous orientation program introduces you to military life. Your performance and attitude during basic will strongly influence your future success at the Academy. This is a list of initials, acronyms, expressions, euphemisms, jargon, military slang, and sayings in common or formerly common use in the United States Air Force. Many of the words or phrases have varying levels of acceptance among different units or communities, and some also have varying levels of appropriateness (usually dependent on how senior the user is in rank). The Royal Australian Air Force (RAAF), formed March 1921, is the aerial warfare branch of the Australian Defence Force (ADF). It operates the majority of the ADF's fixed wing aircraft, although both the Australian Army and Royal Australian Navy also operate aircraft in various roles. It directly continues the traditions of the Australian Flying Corps (AFC), formed on 22 October 1912.
