Hi, thanks for your post. I actually used Netbeans..Can never be bad to see another environment too, but then during development I recognized the ant option for setting up also the environment for Eclipse, so next time maybe :) And yes, I'm developing (or developed, I'm finished now) a portlet according to the JSR specifications together with Spring, Hibernate etc..This is another common reason of java.lang.NoClassDefFoundError, when your class performs some static initialization in a static block like many Singleton classes initialized itself on the static block to take advantage of thread-safety provided by JVM during the class initialization process, and if static block throws an Exception, the class which is referring to this class will get ...????? ??? - ??????????
